Everything you ever wanted to know about pet care, but were afraid to ask!

Are you like many of my clients who have general questions about caring for their 4-legged companions, yet don't know how or when to ask the veterinarian??

I know many people have lots of questions – I get them anytime I am at a party, on a plane, even in the grocery store, and people find out I am a veterinarian!! And I am sure there are many more of you who want to ask, but haven't found an appropriate time or place. (To all of you – thanks for NOT accosting me in the grocery store!) Well –here is your chance!

I am offering classes one night a month on topics that I hope will be of interest to most pet lovers. You can come to one class, just a few, or all of them. If they are well-received, we can expand the topics and I will happily take suggestions from all who attend for future classes.

There is no charge for any of these classes – I felt there was a need and a desire for information among my clients, and other pet lovers. I have always felt an educated client makes a better pet owner, and I would rather you get your information from a reliable source (namely me!!) than random locations on the Internet.

So take a look at the list below, pick your favorites and let me know if you can come. I will have handouts for all the talks, and refreshments. You can call me up to the day of the talk to RSVP – I just need some idea of how many to plan for at each talk.

Hope to see you there – and bring a friend or neighbor! But please, leave the pets at home.
